YOU CANNOT BUY ]

Yews are definitely the hardiest of the better evergreens, withstanding extremely low temperatures.

The foliage is dark green during the whole year. It will not "brown" in winter.

While the Yews make a superb hedge, they have many interesting features when grouped with Rhododendron or other broad-leaved evergreens.

Yews may be clipped to any desired shape, and in any form are equally pleasing.

Yews are not particular as to soil or location, requiring only moderate feeding and cultivating until established.

In a general group the color-tones of the Yew tend to form a landscape picture that grows in value each year.

ERICA—CALLUNA

Heath and Heather

Compact, low growing and evergreen, it is an ideal plant for evergreen banks, for individual groups in the rock-garden, or in the foreground of evergreen plantings. We recommend an annual clipping or shearing to keep it trim looking. Requires a peaty soil. Stock we offer is all pot grown.

AZALEAS FOR FORCING

Each year we grow immense quantities of Forcing Azaleas in our huge greenhouses. Our long experience assures you of first grade, high quality stock.

In addition to the Belgian and Kurume varieties we are now growing sufficient quantities of the glorious new AZALEA RUTHERFORDIANA.

—:— —:—

This highlight of the Azalea family has all the qualities needed to satisfy the most discriminating taste.

—:— —:—

... Azalea Rutherfordiana is a cross of three Azaleas with a Rhododendron.

—:— —:—

... It will flower at Christmas, Valentines Day, Easter and Mothers' Day.

—:— —:—

... Exquisite colors from pure, snow white to lavender and crimson.

—:— —:—

... Flowers borne in trusses—like Rhododendrons—are more profuse and will last longer than other types.

—:— —:—

... Easy of culture and a vigorous grower.

—:—

More complete details will be sent at your request.
